Final Project: Younger students will code a story they have created and older students will code a game.

Social Emotional Learning and Exercise

Come spend your Friday mornings learning how to manage your emotions and support your friends during emotional times. Together we will use reading, writing, breathing, and exercise to learn how to cope with stressors like: test anxiety, problems with friends, extreme feelings of anger, sadness, or stress, boredom in school, insecurity and more.

Emotions are not bad, but we do need to learn how to control them!
